All:

Several editorial updates have been made to the study application in iRIS. These changes are all instructional and do not change any actual data fields. Any tickets that have been entered to update/change data fields is on hold until after the PTMS migration into iRIS is completed, as the mapping between the 2 systems has to change with every update to any data field on either side.

Please forward this email to anyone I may have missed that has an interest in this.

Several tickets have been put in to update/clarify wording & instructions in some of the study app sections. This has been done now in production. The changes are below for you to see.

1. Addition of a "Note" to the Study Interventions question in the Interventional Studies section.
